UM TO OFFER 'DEATH AND DYING' COURSE IN HELENA

MISSOULA--

A course titled "Death and Dying" will be offered in Helena July 7 through 25 by the University of Montana Center for Continuing Education. The class will meet Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to noon in the Lewis and Clark Public Library Meeting Room.

The course will examine various understandings of death, some of the rituals that accompany death, and some of the moral, ethical and religious considerations. It will also consider resources for coming to terms personally with death and grief.

The instructor is Dr. Douglas Strange, who has been a lecturer in religion and history at several universities and has written extensively about these subjects. He earned a B.D. from Lutheran Theological Seminary and a Ph.D. at Harvard, and he did graduate work at Oxford University.

The course carries three undergraduate credits in Humanities 351. The fee is $90. Pre-registration by June 30 is required. Registration will be completed at the first class meeting.

To pre-register, send name, address, telephone number, and name, time and place of the course to: Center for Continuing Education and Summer Programs, 125 Main Hall, University of Montana, Missoula, 59812, telephone 243-2900.
